Standard Hardware:

Each Collection has specific "Standard" hardware selected for that collection. Holes are drilled in the doors and drawers specifically to match this hardware. There is no extra charge for the hardware.

To Change Your Hardware Choice:

If you prefer a different hardware than the "Standard" for the collection you are ordering you must tell us at the time you place the order. As a free service to you, we will change the cabinet to a different hardware style and as needed, change the drilling pattern to match (an exception is the three longest Stainless Steel Bar Pulls). To order non-standard hardware, you must specify both the knob and drawer codes using our Hardware Style Codes.

Hardware Style Codes:

The Hardware Style Code (only used if you are changing the standard hardware) is a 4-position code. The first code is the Door code and the second code is the Drawer code. For example: If you are ordering a Gentry Collection cabinet which has the "GKRB" knob for the door and the "GPRB" pull for the drawers, but you want the "AKSN" knob on both doors and drawers, then you would tell us to replace the standard hardware with hardware AKSN-AKSN.

Optional Stainless Steel Bar Pulls:

If you want to order a cabinet with any of the optional bar pulls (codes that begin with 7, 8 or 9) you must specify "No holes drilled and no hardware" and then order the specific hardware you need. You will be charged the Add-on Price less normal discounts for pulls with the codes 7PSS, 8PSS, and 9PSS.

No Holes Drilled and

No Hardware Option:

If you want to use "Non-Woodpro" hardware or when ordering optional stainless steel bar pull hardware (codes 7PSS, 8PSS, or 9PSS) then you must order the cabinet(s) with the option, "No holes drilled and no hardware". There is no charge for this option.

Hardware Pricing:

If you want to order additional hardware items or replacement items then you will be charged the Replacement Price, listed above, less normal discounts.

NOTE: Light fittings of mirrored cabinets are automatically finished the color specified for each Collection. Polished nickel hardware is matched with chrome light fittings. If you change the hardware choice to a different finish, it is your responsibility to order a different light fittings finish to match.
